Tom Rooney Wins Twice Harry Pollok in Amateur Oarsmen Contests.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 11.- Tom Rooney, of the Ravenswood Boat Club, of New York, rowed to a double victory in the shoops-class P-start, 2-06-course, 10 opening day of racing in the championship rowing regatta held under the auspices of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen here to-day.

Rooney won the quarter-mile dash, defeating Osman, the Syracuse oarsman, who represented the Duluth Boat Club; G. Waldo Smith, of the New York A. C.; Walter Allison, of the Undine Barge Club, of Philadelphia, and Schmidheiser, of the same club. Short in after that, the Ravenswood sculler returned to the line in the association single sculls, and giving his opponents his wash all the way down the course, won handsomely.

One of the startling surprises in the regatta was the defeat of Jack Kelly, the Vesper Boat Club's star, in the senior doubles. The Western club had little difficulty in winning the crew races.

Actual negotiations for the Willard Weinert match will be under way within a few days. Harry Pollok, manager of Weinert, left for Denver yesterday, where he will confer with Jess Willard and Tom Jones.

The Ethiopian was too fast for Moran, whose real name is Victor Emanuel Moreno. The black was always somewhere else when the spaghetti destroyer charged at him. Johnson frequently had Moran dazed by his speed and a right uppercut which connected with monotonous regularity.

Toward the end of the bout Moran began to perk up a bit. In the tenth he waded into his opponent, who had become leg weary, and shot a couple of fast lefts to the jaw. Johnson was glad to hear the bell, but on a mathematical calculation and on the basis of ground covered in the sprinting around the ring the colored boy won on points.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 11.-John E. Madden's Hendrie, a homebred son of Star Shoot and Orange and Blue, took the measure of Ral Parr's imported Crimper in a mile dash that was offered by the Saratoga Association this afternoon. It was the last event of the day, but the most interesting by reason of the appearance of Crimper. The race was badly run, and Murphy, the jockey who handled Crimper, was much to blame for his defeat.

Oft in the Clammy Night.

(With Apologies.)

Oft in the clammy night, Ere slumbers chains have bound me, Dull memory brings the blight Of foozled shots that hound me; The putts I blew a foot or two, The drives I sliced inanely, The mashie pitch that caught some ditch The while I cursed profanely.

Oft in the bitter eve, More oft than I might mention, Sad memory tugs my sleeve And calls my pained attention To drives I flubbed and putts I dubbed Like some one drunk, or drunker, Of shots I struck with ghoulish luck That buried in some bunker.

Oft in the anguished night When I have hit the cover, Gaunt phantoms cross my sight Above my sleep to hover, Of flying sand, of torn up land, Of curses howled to heaven, Of simple 3s I faced with ease The while I took a 7.
